One Monday morning, the people of Kitalo village woke up in the happy mood as usual by 8.00 o'clock in the morning, all the adults were in the gardens cultivating their pieces of land. The rainy season had just started so they were busy. The children were at school. This was the order of the day in their village.

By around midday, shock filled the village. It started as a rumour that a fatal accident had occurred along Nkolimbo road .Then the news spread all over the radio stations. A speeding taxi had overturned. Four people had died on spot. People rushed to the scene of accident to witness the situation on the ground. Some rushed there to help the casualties. Others only ran there to gaze and gather news they would spread. However, there are those who came to rob the victims. They picked any property that had scattered all over the place. They showed no mercy and sympathy to the people who were bleeding and dying.

The situation only normalized when the police arrived. According to the people who were present at the time of the accident, they blamed it on the taxi driver. He was over speeding yet that place is a black spot. It has a blind bend. Worse still, this driver was drunk,the survivors reported.

More shocking to the sad news, was the fact that two of the accident victims were from this village. They had just boarded the taxi about a kilometer away from the scene of the accident. What a sorrowful moment the villagers had.
